Labor Giant In

Final Retirement

Unless a reader of this newspaper is in his late 40s, Thursday's front page obituary of John L. Lewis may seem a resurrection from an unfamiliar historical text. Memory being the fallible trait that it is, quite likely the older reader may have forgotten him.

For practical purposes, Lewis left the headlines when he retired as president of the United Mine Workers of America in 1960 at age 80.

America's pre-occupation with the space age, the Viet Nam involvement and the civil rights movement completely displaced a contemplation of his impact upon our institutions and thinking.

The adjectives applied to Lewis, either in adoration by his followers or in rage by his opponents, are descriptive.

The coal miners likened him to a bishop in armor, a modern Oliver Cromwell.

Captains of industry, government officials and rival union leaders put him down as an egocentric horned devil.

This divergence is typical of any man standing above his fellows and indicates the truth about him is buried under semantical fallacy.

Lewis in the prime of his activity slipping into this saint or sinner categorization is simple to understand. His every move released the dramatic effect of an atomic bomb detonation. By watching the afterglow, friend and foe missed the purpose of his action.

The American Federation of Labor's top echelon marked him for a traitor in 1935 for his advocacy in organizing employees industrywide rather than by the narrower craft concept.

Five years later the Congress of Industrial Organization, which Lewis created, rejected him in opposing a third term for President Roosevelt.

Lewis believed FDR had reneged on him in fighting the former's effort to organize the

Britain Cools

Its Gambling

The English have always been concerned with fair play and now seem determined to bring it to the gambling table. Last year there were some 1,200 swinging gambling clubs in Britain with a combined gross take of about $250 million. Guaranteeing that business would flourish stood the Mafia.

"London under the Tories became the Las Vegas of the Western World," said James Callaghan the Labor Home Secretary. "We gathered an international clientele, some of them not very desirable people at all." Particularly odious were the high rolling junketeers who came to London with a Mafia escort.

Joseph Napolitano, 34, a "tour organizer" of the gaming world, who listed himself as a travel agent from Melrose, Mass., was arrested at the Vila Casino on May 15. He was charged, along with seven other Americans, with conspiring to defraud, unlawful gaming, and possessing rigged dice. Napolitano regularly flew in parties of from 40 to 140 Americans who could not find facilities to suit their tastes in Las Vegas.

The unprecedented boom in English gambling started when Parliament liberalized the gaming laws in 1960. Casinos sprang up everywhere. Bingo expanded to the point where every night of the week more than 500,000 women now play. Slot machines stand in the corner of every saloon bar. Even though statutory limits of $12 have been imposed as the top prize on these one-armed bandits, and clubs may not install more than two of them on the premises, they have proliferated in the arcades.

The House of Lords decided in 1967 that the gambling epidemic had run out of hand and that the best way to cut the underworld out of the picture was to nip the profits. The Lords decided that roulette played with a zero and at odds of 35 to 1 was illegal because all the players (including the croupier) must have equally favorable chances of winning. Roulette wheels played with a zero were prohibited.

The Home Office now hopes to reduce the number of clubs to about 300. The Colony Sporting Club (formerly George Raff's Colony Sporting Club) closed its doors in February because the managing director said the new laws made it "mathematically impossible to be profitable."

In attempting to curb those forms of gambling which are particularly liable to abuse, the Home Office has established a Gaming Board. To teach detectives how to spot slickness of the wrist at craps, casual misdealing of cards at blackjack, or suspiciously imbalanced dice, the Gaming Board has set up a mock training casino. Here ex-croupiers demonstrate the finer points of cheating, all in an effort to give gamblers an "even break."

Starting next year, each casino will have to be properly licensed and its employees registered. The Gaming Board also will standardize the rules and procedures for all games and ultimately will regulate the margin of permissible profit.

Just how large this profit will be is to be determined by Sir Stanley Raymond, Director of the Gaming Board. To bone up, he's taking a "study tour" of the casinos in Ostend (Belgium), Monte Carlo, and Las Vegas this month. England may want to control its gambling establishments, but no one is willing to reduce the number of tourists eager to try their luck.

HENRY CATHCART

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON — College commencement exercises came none too soon this year—too late in some places. It was a tough spring for the students, the faculty, the cops, the National Guard, the politicians, everyone who was involved or concerned with the revolt on the American campus.

It was tough on Washington, too, from President Nixon on down through the Senate and House of Representatives to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Department of Justice.

For the past few years, most of the college kids have tried to steer a course somewhere between the radical leaders of the minorities trying to spark revolts on their campuses and the admonitions of parents not to get involved with "that bunch of hoodlums and pot smokers."

Mostly, our sympathies have been with the kids trying to get an education under this kind of pressure and at a time when a e d e m i c requirements in most courses are expanding as more knowledge is being developed. Then, too, there's the draft for the boys if they flunk and the diminished marriage prospects for the girls, which seems to be what many of them are majoring in in the first place.

There is a tendency for parents to think of today's campus disturbances in terms of the party raids and goldfish eating exhibitionism of their own era.

A lot of it is just that—but not all of it. No hard-core radicals tried to inflame and disrupt educational institutions on either of those bases, and there was no racist issue and questionable war to feed the flames of student radicalism.

Obviously, next year is a riddle now. If Vietnam continues, if black nationalism and the white backlash continue to dominate our domestic politics, a tougher year is clearly in prospect. This is clear in Washington.

No effort is being spared to find a way out of Vietnam, a somewhat less than all-out effort is taking place with regard to the black-white issue. But signs of progress on either issue can make 1970 a year of learning, rather than confrontation on campus.

DR. COLEMAN

.. And Speaking
Of Your Health

The achievement of scientific "impossibilities" begins with a brilliant and courageous idea which then is pursued by men of vision. The transplantation of tissues, as brilliant as it now appears to be, is only the beginning of the vast progress that is inevitable.

It was only a few years ago that the middle and inner ear of patients with chronic infections and certain types of deafness were outside the limits of surgery. Today, operative techniques done under a microscope can perform miracles in tiny areas and return hearing to many who otherwise might be deaf.

As a result of the step by step improvement of surgery, a new operation is being tried in patients who have had marked destruction of the eardrum and of the three tiny bones in the middle ear on which the conduction of sound depends. A number of operations have been tried with wires and plastics to reconstruct the bony defects that interfere with the hearing mechanism.

Dr. Michael E. Glascock and Dr. William F. House in Los Angeles are now transplanting, as a single unit, the eardrum and the contents of the middle ear, including the three ossicles or bones. This complicated procedure has resulted in success in a sufficient number of cases for these surgeons to continue this new study. Many experimental operations have come into general use because one single case was a success. It is hoped that eventually there will be "middle ear banks" of tissues that will be available for the many cases where hearing is deficient.

Even the most sophisticated modern physician recognizes that many drugs have been used without our scientific knowledge in tribal areas for many centuries. Tribes that never wandered out of the wilderness have used herbs and plants by trial and error with great success. Our so-called modern civilization developed chemicals and drugs, approaching medical problems from another point of view, and often arrived at the conclusion that "uncivilized" tribes had much to teach us, the "civilized" ones. I question these concepts of civilization and often wonder how tribal doctors would react to the hostility and aggression that flourishes under the name of "the civilized."

The valuable drug, reserpine, that reduces high blood pressure so dramatically, is only one of the many used in these remote areas. Now a tribal plant, the Tylophora indica, seems to be a very special blessing for "civilized" patients who have severe allergies and asthma. At a recent meeting of the American Academy of Allergy, Dr. D. M. Shizpuri of the University of New Delhi said that he "knew of no modern drug which was able to suppress the symptoms of nasal allergy and asthma for as long as three months as does a single leaf of the plant when given to patients every day for a week."

In his series of cases, the effects for the relief of asthma were dramatic. Now it will take special studies by us, the "civilized," to learn how to explain why this remarkable plant has brought health in the jungle for so many hundreds of years.

The sports world will long be hashing over the unbelievable victory of the upstart football Jets' victory over the supposedly impregnable Baltimore Colts, 16 to 7. Yet, the late great coach Jock Sutherland always insisted that there is no such thing in football as an upset—not if you could figure what was in the minds of the two teams before the kick-off. "A so-called underdog team," Sutherland told sports expert Ted Barber, "that is mentally ready for a particular game will defeat the so-called superior team if it is not properly selected for that contest. It's too late after the kick-off—too late! A team cannot change its thinking in an afternoon."

Day Care Center Director Named

New Agency Will Begin Operations Soon

The Twin Cities Area Child Care Center, which will open in September has a director. Named to that post, effective July 1, was Robert D. Moon, a resident of Berrien Springs.

Jack D. Sparks, president of the Twin Cities Area Child Care Centers, Inc., a nonprofit agency, described Moon's selection as the result of a careful search for a man with the right combination of education and background.

Moon sees the day care center as offering a program for the entire community, not any particular ethnic group of financial category. The new center is nearing completion at Pipestone street and Catalpa avenue, Benton Harbor.

In broad terms, Moon said, the purpose of the clinic is to meet the needs of both the individual and the community. Thus a child whose mother must work to support the family would be a likely candidate for enrollment. But also included, Moon indicated, will be children from families without such pressing financial needs but whose presence would benefit both themselves and the group. Moon said it will be his job to strike a balance between these needs in order to accomplish the clinic's purpose, which is fundamentally to help people.

Moon is a graduate of Pacific Union College in Oregon and holds a Master of Arts degree in education from Michigan State University and is currently working on his dissertation for a doctorate in school curriculum.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

He began his education career at Grand Ledge academy, Grand Ledge. In 1963 he became an instructor of education at Andrews university, and until 1967 worked there mainly in teacher's education and at the laboratory school. Since 1967, Moon has been associated with Michigan State University, evaluating learning programs and systematizing research in the use of new media.

A home for the child care clinic is now under construction in Benton Harbor at the corner of Pipestone street and Catalpa avenue. Scheduled to open in September, the center, which will cost $150,000, is designed for 80 children 2½ to 5 years old and will operate on a full-day, year-round basis. Financing will be by private contribution, state and federal funds, and fees charged to the parents on a sliding scale according to financial background.

PERSONNEL SOUGHT

Director Moon said that his primary concern at the moment is finding personnel to make up the staff, which will number about 14 when complete. He has already enlisted a few experienced persons who have accepted relatively lower salaries out of a desire to be part of the program.

In the long run, Moon sees the day care clinic as an inexpensive way of reaching children still at the age when basic attitudes are being formed. In conjunction with the home, the clinic, he said, will provide an environment suitable to healthy development.

Jack Sparks commented that the center will prove to be a showplace of the nation among day care facilities but at all times its primary concern will be community service.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete at Robbins Brothers funeral home in Benton Harbor.

Would-Be Thieves Chased

Bottles Tossed At Holdup Man

A Benton Harbor bar owner and a resident of Summit street in Benton Harbor forced two would-be thieves to flee empty-handed last night and early today in separate cases.

Howard Leatz, 56, owner of the Esquire bar on Territorial road, and Gene Brasher, 32, a patron, teamed up to scare a holdup man out of the bar on the run. Two bottles were hurled at him.

Edward Osby, 38, of 405 Summit street, jumped out of bed and chased a man who broke into the home while he and his family were asleep.

SAME PERSON?

Benton Harbor police said they were looking for a Negro, about 21, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighing 160 pounds in connection with the attempted holdup at the bar. A man matching the same general description was being sought in the house break-in.

Leatz told police the man entered the rear door of the bar just as he was closing at 2:30 a.m. The man, he said, had his right hand in his pocket and told him it was a stick-up.

Leatz said he walked toward the man asking to see the weapon. At the same time, he said Brasher tossed the two bottles. Other persons were also in the bar.

Osby said the would-be thief was about eight feet from him when he leaped from the bed. He said he had heard footsteps in the house while lying in the bed. His wife was asleep.

Police said nothing was taken by the burglar who entered after a window on the back porch was broken. The back door inside the porch was unlocked, officers said.

Sieber's Force Not Invited

It's Another Charge For Windy Langley

By TOM BRUNDRETT
Staff Writer

Berrien county sheriff's officers last night raided Price's East End Lounge, 235 Pine street, Benton township, arresting 15 persons and confiscating gambling equipment. It was the third raid in two years at the place.

Sheriff Forrest (Nick) Jewell said the raid came after an undercover agent went inside to observe activities earlier Friday. The place had been watched by officers for about five weeks, he said.

Charged with being the keeper of a disorderly house was Sylvester (Windy) Langley, 53, of 1227 Broadway, Benton Harbor. The other 14 were charged with being inmates of a disorderly house. All but Langley were released under $100 bonds pending a court appearance.

WELL-KNOW GAMBLER

Langley is one of the best known gamblers in the Twin Cities with several past convictions.

Several knives and one .38 caliber revolver were found inside and confiscated along with dice, dice horns and cards. Jewell said Benton township officers were not called into help carry out the raid because enough other men were available. He said the exclusion was "not particularly significant" and he doubted that it would strain relations between the department and the township.

The sheriff's office, said Jewell, patrols in the township as well as other townships with individual police forces and it can move without consulting them. In cities, the policy said Jewell is to work with the city force at its request.

Township officers have joined with sheriff's officers in carrying out other raids in previous years. But the number of men used said Jewell, depends on the situation.

Township Chief Joe Sieber said he was not "upset" over the exclusion. But he said he would like to meet with Jewell to discuss operational procedures.

Jewell and 17 members of his staff closed in on the one-story building at 10:18 p.m.

Jewell and his brother, Don Jewell, chief of the department's detectives, said a buzzer was sounding as they went through the door. From information obtained through questioning, officers indicated an unidentified person had come to the window minutes before officers closed in and shouted a warning.

The officers said they had no trouble entering the building and no one inside tried to leave. An investigation into the activities at the building began after detectives Ronald Innos and Boyd Humphrey received information from several sources. The undercover agent was sent into the lounge Friday afternoon.

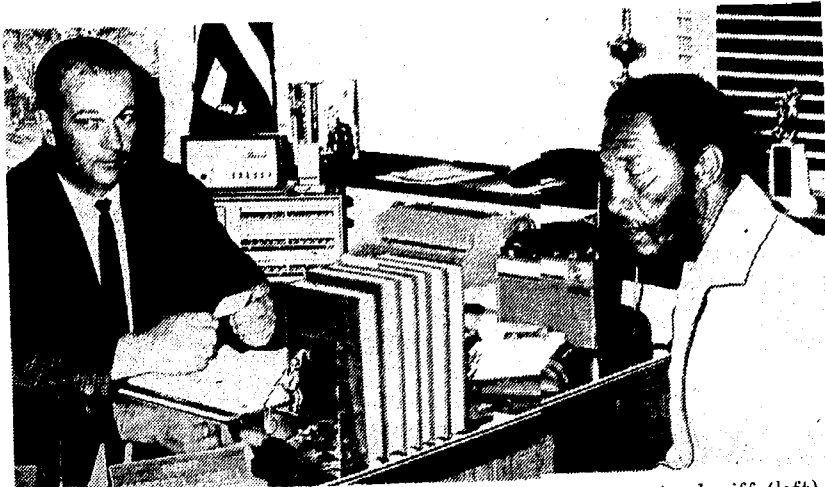

According to officers, dice and card games were both observed.

The lounge, according to Don Jewell, contains pool tables and other tables. But he said it has no license for dispensing food and no license for alcoholic beverage sales.

BUILDING RENTED

Langley, the officers said, rents the building. They said the owner had not yet been identified. Langley also operates the Fair avenue recreation center, the officers said.

Charged with being inmates were: Arthur Gene McClinton, 26, 151 Catalpa avenue, Benton Harbor; Albert Davis, 39, Milner Hotel, Benton Harbor; Luther Cook Jr., 408 Lincoln avenue, Benton Harbor; Paul Lawrence Merritt, 42, of 662 Madison avenue, Benton Harbor; Washington Smith, 63, of 408 Lincoln avenue, Benton Harbor; Charles William Harris, 22, of 169 Bell street, Benton Harbor; Robert Cooper Jr., 63, of 1085 Highland avenue, Benton township; Jessie Lee Higgins, 36, of 765 McQuigan avenue, Benton Harbor; Robert Lee Smith, 28, of 418 High street, Benton Harbor; Willie James Cooper, 24, of 123 Concord road, Benton township; Paul T. Broyles, 28, of 1066 Blossom Lanes, Benton township; George West Anderson, 52, of 218 West Milton street, Benton Harbor; Willie Bowman, 36, of 664 Territorial road, Benton township; and Sylvester Drake, 57, Benton Harbor.

QUESTIONS SUSPECT: Forrest (Nick) Jewell, Berrien county sheriff (left), questions Sylvester (Windy) Langley, 53, of 1227 Broadway, Benton Harbor, after sheriff's officers raided Price's Lounge, 235 Pine street, Benton township. Langley was charged with being the keeper of a disorderly house. Fourteen other persons were charged with being inmates of a disorderly house.

Credit for fast thinking should go to young Bob Jones, a seventh grade student of Mrs. Karl Schlachach at Benton Harbor junior high school.

During a recent class party to mark the end of the school year, Bob jumped into the swimming pool and pulled out a young girl, a classmate, who had slipped at the edge of the pool and fallen into water over her head. Mrs. Schlachach reported that the girl, who earlier had been swimming at the shallow end of the pool, came out of the brief incident in good condition although a bit frightened.

She commended the boy, who is the son of Benton Harbor Fire Department Lt. Robert A. Jones, for his quick thinking and immediate reaction, noting that he was way ahead of the several adults on hand.

Bob also got another citation, a shiner on the right eye. He said this was inflicted during a playful scuffle with his brother, Tony, who packs a mighty wallop at age 3½.

AROUND OUR TOWNS

Sad, Happy Stories About Two Of Our Vietnam Vets

AFTER a year in Vietnam, Specialist 4 Dennis LaMunio was assured of a warm welcome home. And he would have had just that if plane connections had permitted.

LaMunio was scheduled to arrive at Ross field, Benton Harbor, June 1 at 10 p.m. Waiting there to greet him were 25 friends and relatives sporting a lighted, 12-foot sign that read "Hi Dennis." The group stayed on when LaMunio was not among the passengers of the 10 o'clock flight. Only when he failed to appear on the last plane of the day from Chicago's O'Hare field did the disappointed reception committee give up and go home.

The trouble, it turned out, came when LaMunio could not arrange for the right connections in Seattle and Chicago and arrived at O'Hare field after the last flight had left for Benton Harbor. In the end, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James LaMunio, 6606 Lincoln avenue, Stevensville, drove to O'Hare and picked him up.

After his current 40-day leave is over, Specialist LaMunio will be heading back to his unit in Pleiku, Vietnam, for another six months of duty that he earlier volunteered to serve. In his work in 62nd Battalion, 149th Maintenance in Pleiku, he serves as head clerk of a shop that handles repair of combat vehicles.

DENNIS LAMUNIO

AN address book headed for a Vietnam two months ago and mislaid in Seattle Harbor recently in Benton Harbor thanks to the employees of the U.S. Post Office.

The return of the address book was no simple matter. Entries lacked last names, taking the form of "Auntie Alice," "Uncle Frank" and "Cousin William." And place names were mere notations, "B.H." instead of "Benton Harbor," for example. There were, however, zip code numbers, and their presence probably made all the difference.

Two months ago Pfc. Walter L. Voytovick, assigned to Company D, 218th Infantry in Vietnam, wrote his mother, Mrs. Lena Voytovick, in Chicago, requesting an address book so that he could write relatives and friends back in the States.

Mrs. Voytovick complied, including the book in a package with other items. The package arrived in Vietnam minus the address book.

What apparently happened is this: a mail clerk in Seattle, picking up the book after it became separated from the package, at random picked out "Aunt Lucy" at "Route 2, Box 63, B.H. 49022" and through the zip code number determined "B.H." to mean "Benton Harbor."

When the envelope for Aunt Lucy arrived in Benton Harbor, a postal worker, who perhaps was troubled by an Aunt Lucy without a last name, did some additional detective work and dropped her for Aunt Sarah, whose address at 1318 Jennings, whose address at 1318 Jennings, "B.H." made identification a simple matter. Aunt Sarah turned out to be Mrs. Sarah Nelson, and it was she who finally got the book.

Mrs. Nelson's daughter, Mickie, acknowledges that the address book is no longer needed since Pfc. Voytovick has

BH Will Gain, Lose On Court

New State Law Discussed By Stewart

Benton Harbor isn't expected to benefit financially from state legislation to merge the Fifth and Sixth district courts and relieve municipalities of paying county jail prisoner fees, according to City Manager Don Stewart.

"Actually, I don't think we're going to save anything," said Stewart. "It will be more of a standoff."

The standoff would result because the city would lose income produced by the court while saving the cost of prisoner fees, Stewart said.

JUST A SWAP
Stewart estimated $76,000 would be lost from state income at the same time $65,700 would be saved in prisoner costs, based on figures for the year ending June 30.

A savings in money, said Stewart was not the primary reason he and other city officials sought adoption of the state changes. Equity in justice and uniformity on prisoner housing costs were cited as key reasons.

The two state bills were approved by the state House of Representatives June 10 and sent to the Senate for consideration.

State Sen. Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, said he expected no problems in passage of both. But he said it would be several weeks before either was considered because of the press of other business.

Under one bill, the Sixth District court which now covers Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, would be merged with the Fifth District court. The Fifth district covers all of Berrien county outside of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

SECOND PROPOSAL
The second proposal would make the expense of housing prisoners of a city, village or township in the county jail a county expense.

Stewart said the court bill, if approved, would create one court with four judges for the entire county.

The court was budgeted this year to cost $40,000 in operation not counting $25,000 for prisoner housing fees. Stewart said the present jail housing fee was reduced in December when the county agreed to reduce its charge to $2.12 instead of $4.50 a day per prisoner.

A deletion of the two costs would be offset, according to the manager, with a loss of two-thirds of fines and costs levied under city laws as well as other court revenue producing channels.

The manager said parking fine income, estimated at $25,000, would not be affected.

Vandalism In St. Joe

St. Joseph police reported today a window in the Wells field concession stand had been burned by a torch-like missile and basins in the Broad street restaurants sprayed with red paint Friday night.

Officers said two youths at Wells field on South State street reported they saw two other youths throw a flaming object at the window. It burned a hole the size of a half dollar in the plastic.

Police said the flame could have been caused by a propane lighter or from an actual propane torch.

The spray painting in the washrooms were discovered when the washrooms at the foot of Broad street were being closed for the night.

Girl Tells Of Attack

A 17-year-old girl reported to Benton Harbor police last night that she had been jumped and dragged in bushes by an unidentified man on High street near Jefferson street as she walked toward Roxy's drive-in restaurant.

The girl told officers the man, wielding a knife, tore her jacket off, ripped her blouse and skirt before she could break away. She said she ran to a friend's home. Police searched the area but reported finding no one. The girl, a Negro, described the assailant as Negro.

NEW BUILDINGS READY FOR LMC CLASSES

MOVE TO NEW CAMPUS NEAR: Workmen are rushing finishing touches on new Lake Michigan college campus buildings in preparation for moving days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. College staff will use most of week settling into $5 million worth of new buildings on "island" setting on 259-acre campus off Napier avenue in Benton township. This scene shows three-story library building, and side of one-story mechanical maintenance building which has big outdoor plaza for its roof. Unique freestanding stair-ramp is in lower foreground. Summer school classes will start at new campus on June 23. Formal dedication of showplace campus will take place in fall. Some of college's technical classes will remain behind in Upton Technical center and main classroom building on old campus for one or more years. (Staff photos)

SHOWPLACE SETTING: Science and fine arts building is seen over beautiful outdoor plaza created on roof of mechanical-maintenance building. Entire complex of buildings is on site extending out into 18-acre artificial lake. When remainder of eventual $13 million building program is completed, struc-

LMC Graduates Reach Educational Milestone

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

The educational paths of 272 Lake Michigan College students reached milestones Friday night, but the paths of the future, be they rocky or smooth, are ones which still must be walked by all.

This thought was expressed by Dr. Singer A. Buchanan, professor in the broadcasting, speech and dramatic arts department of Eastern Michigan university, as he addressed the LMC Class of 1969 at the institutions 22nd annual commencement exercises held at Benton Harbor high school's Filstrup field.

An honorary Associate in Arts degree was also presented to State Senator Charles O. Zollar, by LMC president James L. Lehman, for his "extraordinary interest in and loyalty toward the principles of community college education."

Dr. Buchanan challenged the class of '69' to . . . "go forth to serve the world with integrity, with knowledge, skills, compassion and with an open and receptive mind—and above all—please go with love of God and mankind."

DECADES LABELED

"Each decade over the past 50 years has had its own label. We began with the 'roaring twenties', then the 'terrible thirties', 'fighting forties', 'frantic fifties', and finally the 'sick sixties'. I sincerely hope with your help that we are about to enter the 'serious seventies.'"

Dr. Buchanan called on the graduates . . . "to take a close look at where they are going, as tomorrow's world will depend on the decisions they make."

A top concern of all graduates across the country, Dr. Buchanan felt is the settling of racial tensions in America today.

"Black Americans and white

Americans would all prosper significantly and peace among men would reign supreme, if there were fewer reasons for agitation and more reasons for adulation."

NEVER KNEW PEACE

In speaking to parents and teachers concerning the ideals of today's youth and the generation gap, Dr. Buchanan said, "These graduates have never known a world of peace, from World War II, Korea, the mid-East, Cuba, and now Vietnam. It's not that they don't love their country and its greatness and promise, it's that they also love living and not dying—that they love a future of peace and love rather than a past of war and hate, which we have given them."

"So I say to you teachers and parents, fear not, trust them, be of good faith, this must be our legacy to them."

Degrees and certificates were presented to the graduates by Dr. James L. Lehman, LMC president, and Robert P. Small, chairman of the college's board of trustees. Practical nursing and apprentice training certificates were presented by Miss Lucy Mayer, and Benjamin J. Standen.

The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Donald Adkins, minister of the Second Baptist Church of Benton Harbor.

Talks Are Recessed At LMC

Negotiators Still $40,000 Apart On Pact

Talks between Lake Michigan college faculty and administration on a new one-year 1969-70 contract halted Friday with four major items unsettled and the two different "packages" reportedly $40,000 apart.

Wendell Yale, an LMC physics instructor and head of the five-member team bargaining for 55 teachers, said his group asked to recess negotiations for two months this summer while teachers are "spreading to the four winds" for summer assignments.

But LMC President James Lehman termed the halt in talks a break in negotiations by faculty and said the board of trustees intends to call in a state mediator.

Negotiations on a contract to replace an expiring one-year contract began March 1 and about 50 items have been settled, Yale said, leaving these—two "personal leave" days for teachers; summer school pay; class load and or pay for division chairmen; and the regular faculty pay scale.

Teachers voted unanimously late Friday to turn down a current administration offer of $40,000 below what teachers seek, Yale said. But he indicated he is confident the two sides will reach a settlement before fall term classes start in late August.

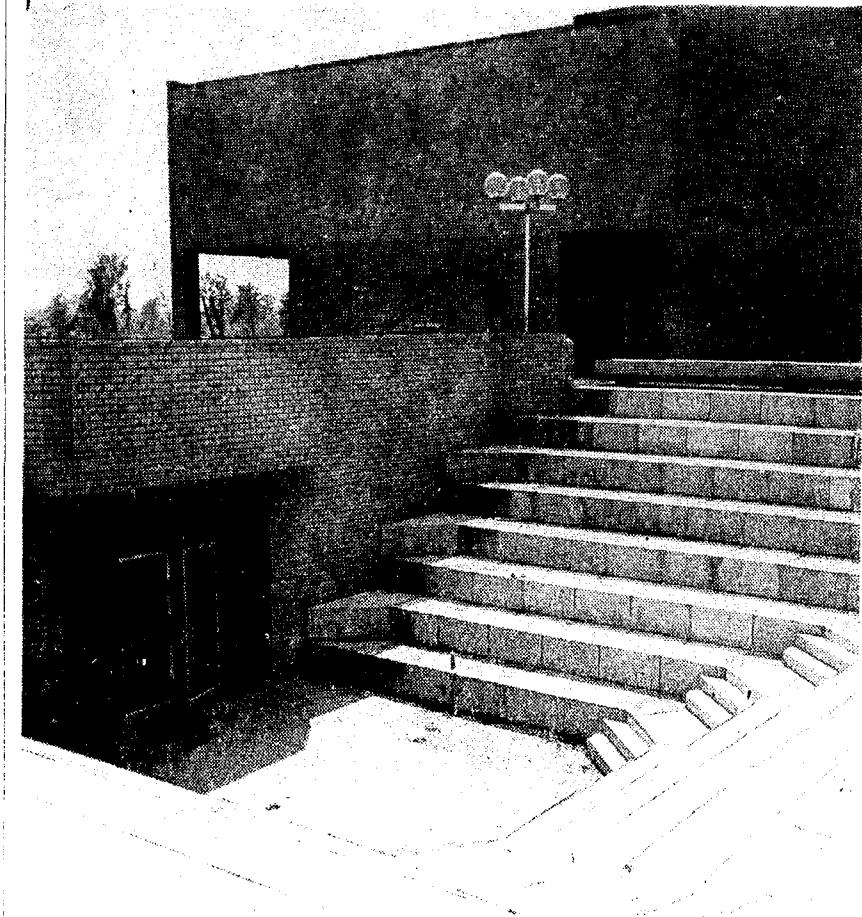

Teachers called for a recess in negotiations Friday because their negotiating team is "spreading to the four winds" this summer, Yale said.

"I'm optimistic about a settlement here," he added.

DISPUTED ITEMS

These disputed items, according to Yale, remain:

- Teachers seek $8,200 annual starting pay for master degree-holders with $400 annual increments to a top after 10 years of $12,200; the board offers the same start but a top of $11,800.
- Teachers seek $240 per credit for summer school teaching, or $15 an hour; the board

SUNKEN AMPHITHEATER: In midst of broad central plaza built on roof of mechanical-maintenance building is outdoor sunken amphitheater. Picturesque feature is planned for student lounging and some open air class sessions on nice days. Tiered stone seats also provide two stairways to classrooms under plaza. Building complex is designed so students and instructors can go anywhere in complex either by indoor or outdoor routes. Architect is Harry Weese & Associates, Chicago.

offers $208 or $13 an hour. Currently it's $200.

- Teachers seek two "personal leave" days where teachers pick the day and offer the reason to the dean; administration says college officials should have the power to okay or disapprove leave days.

- Teachers want six division chairmen, who assist deans, teaching a maximum of 12 credit-hours, a reduction one class; administration would keep chairmen at full teaching load and pay them $500 or $1,000 extra.

ISSUES SETTLED

Among the settled items, Yale said, are:

- Night school pay for teachers of $12 per "contact hour," while teachers currently get $10.

- Professional conference pay to teachers of $25 a day and 10 cents a mile.

- One-day sick leave for night and summer school teachers.

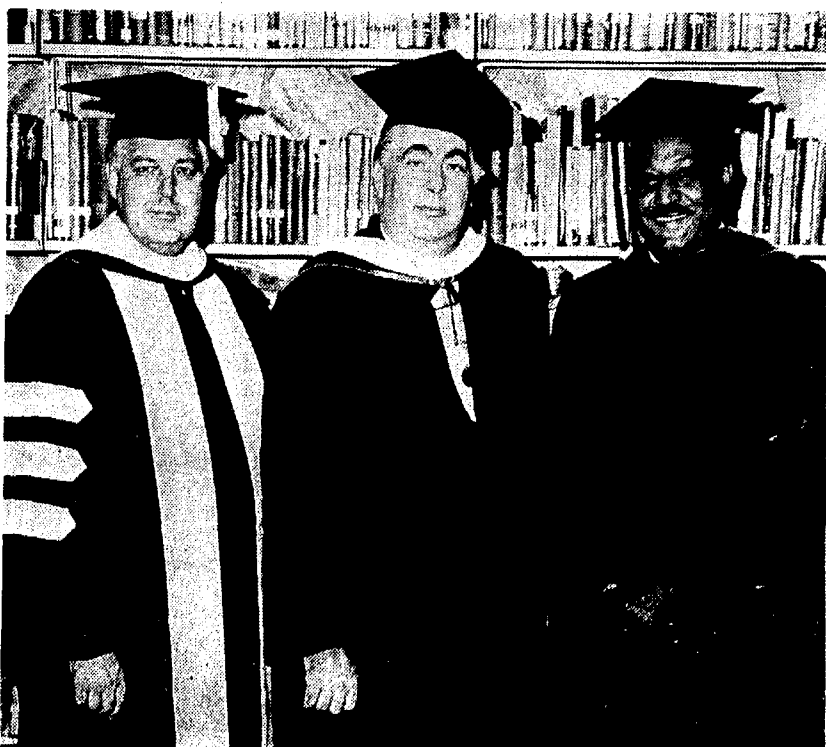

- Paydays the day before a holiday.

- A new insurance package for teachers where the college pays them $25 each per month (up from $24.60) for the insurance of their choice.

- Ten cents a mile for teachers driving between Benton Harbor and Benton township campuses.

Clerks Give 'Message' To Congress

Want Right To Strike

A spokesman for Benton Harbor's organized postal clerks, returning from a three-day lobbying effort in Washington, said today that "Congress got the message — loud and clear."

George Althouse, president of Local 131 of the United Federation of Postal Clerks, said the "message" included demands for pay comparable with private industry and the lawful right to bargain collectively with the Post Office department.

"We also served notice," said George Althouse, President of Local 131 of the United Federation of Postal Clerks, "that we oppose the proposed postal corporation scheme so long as it denies employees the right to strike."

"We may not get everything we want," he added, "but Congress sure knows where we stand."

Althouse said the Benton Harbor delegation joined with some 3,000 clerks from every state in the union "in head-to-head meetings which presented to virtually every member of Congress evidence to support the validity of our grievances and the equity of our objectives."

He called the objectives "essential to employ morale and vital to the improvement of service to the public."

The conference was organized by National Legislative Director Pat Nylan of the AFL-CIO clerks' union as the climax of a series of meetings involving all the postal unions and billed as a "United Pay Front."

Postal workers are pressing for a 16.5 per cent across the board pay increase and other benefits.

Drunks Sentenced To Jail

Six men were sentenced yesterday in Sixth District court after they were arrested on the grounds of a Benton Harbor manufacturing plant for being drunk and disorderly.

They were arrested in a police sweep Thursday at the V-M parking lot. The men are transients and not employees of V-M.

Sentenced to 10 days in jail and assessed $14.20 in court costs was Beldon D. Aris of Buffalo, N.Y. The other five men were ordered to spend five days in jail or pay $24.90 in fines and costs: Herman J. Brownlee, Griffin, Georgia; Charles Garrett, no address given; Jerry J. Jana, Mary's hotel, Benton Harbor; Winston A. Sisson, no address given; and Walter Wilson, Okla. Fla.

In Niles before Judge John Iwanicki, Robert A. Niemier, 38, of 3604 1/2 Mishawaka, South Bend, demanded examination on a charge of fleeing arrest; bond was set at $500. Bond for an additional charge of making an improper left turn was set at $75.

In Sixth District Court Thursday, Jerry Holton pleaded innocent to a charge of petty larceny; bond was set at $200. For two additional charges, minor in possession of intoxicants and being drunk and disorderly, he was assessed a total of $113 in fines and costs.

TOWNSHIP OF CHIKAMING BERRIEN COUNTY MICHIGAN

ORDINANCE NO. 17 (Adopted June 5, 1969)

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE AND CONTROL THE REMOVAL OR RELOCATION OF SAND, GRAVEL, TOPSOIL, CLAY, MARL, MINERALS, WASTE AND FILL MATERIAL IN CHIKAMING TOWNSHIP, BERRIEN COUNTY, MICHIGAN, AND TO PROVIDE PENALTIES TO THE VIOLATION THEREOF. THE TOWNSHIP OF CHIKAMING ORDAINS:

ARTICLE I

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to remove, deposit, or relocate any sand, gravel, topsoil, clay, marl, minerals, waste or fill materials, or other similar materials, in or from lands in the Township of Chikaming, Berrien County, Michigan, except as hereinafter provided, without first obtaining a written permit therefor from the Chikaming Township Board.

ARTICLE II

Any person, firm or corporation desiring to obtain a permit, as provided in Article I above, shall first file an application therefor with the Township Clerk. Such application shall be addressed to the Township Board and shall set forth the following information:

1. Name and address of petitioner.

2. Legal description of land involved.

3. Maximum amount of material to be moved, removed, deposited or relocated.

4. Type or kind of material to be moved, removed or relocated, or used for fill material.

5. Measures to be taken by the applicant to control noise, vibration, dust and traffic during the operations.

6. A description of any traffic control devices, public facilities, or public services which will be required by the proposed operations and a statement as to how applicant proposes that the cost thereof be paid.

7. Any measures which applicant proposes to take to insure public safety, the exclusion of children from the premises, and the lateral support of surrounding land and structures.

8. The time required for the proposed operations.

9. In addition, the applicant shall describe in detail, by contour maps or otherwise, the contour and condition of the lands as he proposes to leave them upon completion of the operations. Such a statement shall include proposed plans of landscaping or other stabilization control to be employed to leave the premises in a reasonably level and useable condition and to prevent erosion, dust, and unsightly conditions.

ARTICLE III

Each application for such a permit shall be accompanied by a fee in the amount of $1.00 for each acre or fraction thereof described therein, provided, however, that the minimum fee shall be $10.00, and provided further that in the event that the permit is denied, said permit fee shall be refunded to the applicant.

ARTICLE IV

Upon receipt of any application and fee, the application shall be transmitted forthwith by the Township Clerk to the Township Planning Commission for its advice and recommendation, and no action shall be taken thereon by the Township Board until the Clerk has received a report from the Township Planning Commission or until the expiration of 40 days from the filing of the application, whichever is sooner. The recommendation of the Township Planning Commission shall not be binding upon the Township Board. Either the Township Board or the Township Planning Commission may make suggestions regarding amendment of the application by the applicant, and no application which has been amended in pursuance of any such suggestion need be referred to the Township Planning Commission a second time as a result of such amendment.

ARTICLE V

No permit shall be issued unless the Township Board, after considering the application and the recommendation of the Township Planning Commission, if any, and after giving the applicant an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel, shall find that the proposed operations are not likely to cause any dangerous, unsanitary, or unhealthy condition, that they will impose no undue financial burden upon the Township, that they are not likely to create any public or private nuisance, that they are not likely to be conducted in violation of any State law or Township ordinance, that there is adequate assurance that the premise will be left in such condition as will protect them from erosion, and that after completion of the operations, the premises will be at least as useable for purpose permitted by the Township Zoning Ordinance as at the time of granting of the permit. To this end, as a condition of granting the permit, the Township Board may require the applicant to post bond or escrow funds to assure that operations will be conducted and the premises left as herein required, and that any undertakings of the application will be carried out.

ARTICLE VI

In addition to the matters heretofore mentioned, the Township Board in considering the granting of such a permit may hear any other person or consider any other factor which may bear on the public health, safety, or general welfare in the particular situation. The effect upon surrounding property values may be considered as a factor affecting the general welfare, but no permit shall be denied solely because its granting would have an adverse effect upon property values.

ARTICLE VII

After the Township Board has reached a decision regarding the granting or denial of an application for such a permit, the applicant shall be advised thereof in writing by the Township Clerk, and if the applicant is favorably acted upon by the Township Board such permit shall be issued forthwith.

ARTICLE VIII

Each permit shall apply only to the lands described in the application and may be revoked if the permit holder operates in any manner inconsistent with the statements in the application or fails to comply with any special requirement which the Township Board may order set forth in the permit to protect the public health, safety and welfare in the special circumstances of the situation, or if it shall at any time appear that any of the findings set forth above could not be made if the matter were then before the Township Board for decision, provided, however, that no permit shall be revoked unless the permit holder is given written notice, mailed or personally served at least 5 days prior to the date of the meeting at which revocation is considered, and the opportunity be given to the permit holder to be heard in person or by counsel. Said notice shall specify the date, time and place of the meeting at which revocation will be considered and inform the permit holder of the reason or reasons why revocation is under consideration and of his right to be heard either in person or by counsel. Revocation of a permit shall not exempt the permit holder from punishment for any violation of this ordinance as hereinafter provided.

ARTICLE IX

This ordinance shall not apply to normal and necessary excavation or grading done in the connection with construction of roads, farm ponds, farm erosion control projects, drains, sewers, construction of dwellings and other township ordinances, nor shall it apply in any case where the amount removed from or relocated or deposited on any parcel of land in any one calendar year is less than 500 cubic yards of sand, gravel, clay, marl, minerals, waste and fill materials or other similar materials. Provided however, nothing herein contained shall in any way permit any kind of mining, mineral removal or relocation or dumping of waste and fill materials in any amount, where such use would be apt to interfere with the public health, safety, or welfare or create a public or private nuisance or such use would be apt to endanger children or deprive adjoining owners of property of the beneficial use and enjoyment of their lands.

ARTICLE X

Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not to exceed One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), or by commitment to the County Jail for a period not to exceed 90 days or by both fine and commitment. Each and every day that such violation continues shall constitute a separate offense.

ARTICLE XI

This ordinance shall take effect thirty days from and after the 5th day of June, 1969.

Enacted by the Township Board of the Township of Chikaming, Berrien County, Michigan, on this 5th day of June, 1969.

INDIANA MAN Charged With St. Joe Breaking, Entering

A Michigan City, Ind., man was in custody of St. Joseph police today after an investigation by Michigan City authorities was connected to a breaking and entering at the Boy Scout center, 2920 Lakeview avenue, St. Joseph.

Michael James Liska, 22, was booked Friday on a charge of breaking and entering. He had waived extradition after he was arrested at his home earlier Friday.

St. Joseph police said the case had been considered a malicious destruction of property complaint until the Michigan City authorities contacted them.

A window was found broken at the center June 1 but nothing was reported missing then. Officers then thought youthful ballplayers caused the damage.

According to Dets. William Mihalik and Tom Cooper of St. Joseph, Michigan City detectives notified them that additional information had been uncovered during another investigation.

Mihalik and Cooper took Liska into custody after conferring with Michigan City authorities and questioning a 13-year-old Michigan city youth. The boy was not held.

The detectives said medals, Boy Scout sashes and records had been taken in the breaking. One record involved a Buchanan Boy Scout troop. Liska formerly lived in Buchanan. Mihalik and Cooper said Liska at one time was a leader of the troop.

Petroleum Splashed On Doors; Set Afire

Benton Harbor police and the city fire marshal today were investigating a fire at 421 Washington avenue where three doors apparently were splashed with flammable liquid.

The fire department said eight children were in the house along with their father, Andrew Cohn, 42, when the doors ignited. No other damage was reported.

Police said one of the eight, a girl, 14, told them a man had been at the house about 12:45 a.m. and had threatened the family.

Lt. Roy Hearn of the fire department said it appeared that flammable liquid had been poured onto the doors. Kerosene was listed as a possibility.

The department was called to the home at 1:28 a.m. Cohn and a neighbor had partially extinguished the fires when fireman arrived, the fire department said.

Police said Cohn told them a man from South Haven had been "giving him trouble."
